

CTED 873 -Multiple Intelligences and Technology in the Classroom (Online) 3 Credits Independent Study

Instructor: Ryan Semans

Email: semansr@it4educators.com

Course Description:

Use online, step-by-step tutorials, Microsoft® Office applications, educational internet resources, and State and National curriculum standards to achieve success in integrating multiple intelligences into your lessons using technology. Educators will learn how to create objectives, lessons, and assessments based on our multiple intelligences and technology integration. Educators will also create motivational and relevant classroom projects, include classroom templates, teacher support materials, and assessment tools. Learners will also participate in online discussions.

Goals and Objectives

As a result of participation in this course, learners will:

1. Use prior knowledge and new learned knowledge to create lessons that meet the needs of all students.
2. Reflect upon prior knowledge and learned knowledge in your classroom.
3. Research the intelligences and reflect upon the resources for curricular integration in the future.
4. Reflect upon your teaching experiences after researching and investigating multiple intelligences and technology.
